Insightful conversations

Sharing Endoflip™ expertise

Medtronic invites you to an exclusive dinner event offering a unique opportunity to engage in in-depth discussions with expert Endoflip™ users.

At this event, you will join small peer groups over dinner to discuss a specific application of Endoflip™ that is of interest to you. Expert Endoflip™ users will serve as hosts, and discussion moderators to encourage open conversation and knowledge sharing.

This small format gathering is designed to deepen understanding of impedance planimetry by providing attendees with a forum for deeper exploration of a specific application of interest to them.
