

Unlock the Power of Multi-Disciplinary Collaboration in Foregut Care

WHY JOIN THE AMERICAN FOREGUT SOCIETY?

Whether you're early in your career or an established expert, AFS provides a collaborative platform to grow your knowledge, expand your network, and influence the future of foregut disease management.

BECOME A MEMBER OF THE AMERICAN FOREGUT SOCIETY (AFS)

AFS is the only professional society bringing together foregut surgeons and gastroenterologists to improve the diagnosis, treatment, and outcomes of patients with foregut disease. Through education, innovation, and collaborative community, AFS is advancing the future of foregut care—together.

WHAT OUR MEMBERS SAY

"AFS fills a much-needed gap in creating a true partnership between GI and surgery. I finally feel like I have a community that understands the complexity of my work."

— AFS Member, Foregut Surgeon

ADVANCE YOUR KNOWLEDGE & CLINICAL PRACTICE

- CME-Accredited Education
Gain access to high-quality, evidence-based learning through AFS-hosted webinars, panel discussions, and courses designed for both GI and surgical disciplines.
- Annual Scientific Meeting
Receive discounted access to the AFS Annual Meeting, the premier event where thought leaders present cutting-edge research, new procedural techniques, and emerging technologies.

SHAPE THE FUTURE OF FOREGUT CARE

- Contribute to Guidelines & Best Practices
Members have the opportunity to participate in AFS-led initiatives that establish national clinical guidelines and drive practice-changing research.
- Advocacy & Public Awareness
Be part of AFS's growing voice in advocating for multidisciplinary care models and improved patient access to high-quality foregut disease treatment.

ENHANCE YOUR PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

- Robotics Mentorship Program
AFS offers a structured six-month pathway for surgeons seeking to master robotic techniques for foregut procedures. Participants are paired with experienced mentors for guided, hands-on development.
- Leadership & Volunteer Opportunities
Get involved in committee work, task forces, and educational programming that supports your professional goals while contributing to the broader AFS mission.
- Fellow & Early Career Engagement
AFS supports future leaders in foregut with reduced membership fees, networking opportunities, and specialized educational resources.

EXPAND YOUR PROFESSIONAL NETWORK

- Multidisciplinary Collaboration
Join a unique, national community of foregut surgeons, gastroenterologists, fellows, advanced practice providers, and industry partners—all aligned in improving patient care.
- SurgeOn Online Community
A secure digital platform designed for members to exchange ideas, ask clinical questions, and discuss challenging cases in real-time.
- AFS Women's Collaborative
Participate in small-group cohorts created by and for women in foregut medicine and surgery. These confidential, peer-led groups offer mentorship, support, and shared experience in navigating professional growth.
