

You are invited to attend a webinar

12-Month Results from the CALIBER Study Comparing Treatment with PPI's and LINX

September 26, 2020
8:30 am ET

Register Now

Course overview

During this presentation Dr. Reginald Bell will review the 12-month results of the Caliber Study. This study compares the LINX® Reflux Management System to double-dose proton pump inhibitors for the management of reflux symptoms related to gastroesophageal reflux disease.

Faculty

Reginald CW Bell, MD, FACS

Institute of Esophageal and Reflux Surgery, Assistant Clinical Professor in Surgery, University of Colorado, Health ScienceCenter, Englewood, CO

Important Safety Information will be discussed as it relates to specific products and devices listed during this training course. This promotional educational activity is brought to you by Medical Device Business Services, Inc. and is not certified for continuing medical education. Reginald Bell is compensated by and presenting on behalf of Ethicon US, LLC and must present information in accordance with applicable FDA requirements.